Re-Visions is an exhibition which grew out of a mature artist's need to revise works created over the past decade. For all the people who have collected my paintings in the past it is an opportunity to peek into the studio and go home with a small product of a lifetime of passionate dedication to art making. The intense process of creating gives me immense pleasure, even when it involves the daily struggle within the esoteric world of my studio. I will always paint, as long as I'm breathing because for me it remains the most sublime means of expressing human existence.
